WELLS—PICKENS

Another surprise was sprung on the young people of our city Tuesday evening, when word was given out of the marriage of Dawson Wells and Miss Mary Pickens, at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pickens, the Reverend J. D. Nichols officiating. Only members of the families of the contracting parties knew of the affair, consequently the surprise given to their friends.

Immediately after the ceremony and the extending of congratulations the newlyweds left on the midnight train for St. Louis where they are spending a few days on their honeymoon.

On their return home they will probably occupy the Wells home north of the Methodist church, the building and grounds having only recently been given quite a bit of improvement, where they will be at home to their many friends.

This is the culmination of a romance that covers a period of several years, and to say that Mr. Wells has won a bride of worth is to place it lightly.

The bride is the present principal of the High School, and is one of the most popular young ladies of the city and has many friends, possibly mainly due to the fact that she, in the many years she has been in our schools has had several of the pupils who are all her friends and, consequently, the parents all have a fond appreciation for the teacher who has assisted in pushing forward their children to higher ideals. She was first employed in the grade department of the public schools here and rapidly rose to the principalship of the High School. She has again been elected for the coming term, which is, in itself, evidence of her loyal work for the betterment of the schools.

The groom is practically a product of Hayti, and the city has reason to be proud of her son. He entered the army at a very early age, and after some years in the Lefter Drug Store where he had studied well and faithfully, finally being registered by the State as a pharmacist. His work is often referred to with a degree of pleasure by his former employer, Mr. Lefter. He is a young man of sterling qualities and worth, the best of character and good business ability. He was one of the great number who answered the call of America and saw nearly two years service in France and Germany.

The Herald is pleased to join a host of friends of the newlyweds in wishing for them the highest of prosperity and happiness through the chosen path.

TO EXPLORE WEST AFRICA

A call comes to Missouri from the United States agency of the Banco National Ultramarino, state bank of the Portuguese colonies, for three men, graduates of the Missouri College of Agriculture, who are experts in the growth of tobacco, cereals or fruits.

These men are to survey the Portuguese colony of Angola in West Africa, consisting of 500,000 square miles, for the purpose of determining the possibilities of these industries throughout the colony. In addition to the salary, all traveling expenses will be paid, camping equipment furnished and provision will be made through a new York City bank for the care of the dependents of these men in America during their absence.

The development of the vast untouched resources of Africa and South America offer unparalleled opportunities for the red-blooded American boys of today—provided they equip themselves with the scientific training in agriculture which will enable them to give these new colonies specialized and efficient service.

Rev. Z. T. Woolverton of Deering Methodist church was here for the first time in several months Tuesday, shaking hands with friends. He gave the Herald office a pleasant visit.

The Five Hundred Card Club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Hosea last Thursday evening by Mrs. Stephen S. Hill. Mrs. L. H. Brannon was the prize winner of the evening. A repast of jelly and cake was served.

BETTER LAWS FOR THE FARMER

The 1921 Legislature of Missouri broke all previous records for the enactment of legislation and appropriations favorable to agriculture and country life.

Among the laws that passed the 51st General Assembly may be mentioned the "Agricultural Consolidation Bill" creating a new "State Department of Agriculture" with a good as general plan of organization for production and marketing as can be found in any state.

The creating of a new State Marketing Bureau, among other things licensing and bonding all produce commission merchants with $170,000 for marketing service in the interest of both the producer and the consumer.

A new law defining and punishing "discrimination" in prices in the buying of dairy and poultry products.

A new type of commodity corporation act administered under the regular corporation laws of the state.

An act providing for a $125,000 hog pavilion at the State Fair grounds in Sedalia.

A law protecting adults and children against tuberculosis by requiring all herds of five milk cows or more to be tested, if milk is to be sold therefrom.

A county unit school law, in the interest of better rural schools, leading up to township high schools for all country boys and girls.

Two bills opening the grain exchanges and live stock exchanges to co-operative shippers and co-operative commission organizations operated on a patronage dividend basis.

Special appropriations to the State Corn Growers' Association and the State Horticultural Society, in the interest of more and better fruits and corn.

Certain amendments seeking to improve the agricultural co-operative law.

A new law for state aid to county fairs and grain shows in no-fair counties.

A new "county option" dog law.

A model county library bill, optional with each county.

A new bee or apiary act.

Larger and more liberal appropriations for all phases of agriculture. A model new immigration law, and a $100,000 appropriation.

BRADSHAW OUSTED AND VACANCY FILLED—PROTEST

By International News Service.

Kansas City, Mo., June 16.—The used which has existed between Governor Hyde and State Warehouse Commissioner Bradshaw finally resulted in the latter being ousted from office. Thomas Henicks has been appointed to fill the vacancy prepared by the Governor.

A few weeks ago the Governor in conference with Bradshaw informed him that he must be removed and asked for his resignation making use of these words: "I must have these offices, Bradshaw, they are bounding me to death for them."

Bradshaw has protested the removal and refused to turn over his position until ordered by the Supreme Court. His attorney holds that the primary reasons for Hyde's actions is political bias and has made an appeal to the Supreme Court for its decision.

The Governor and Commissioners chatted affably but their fight was conducted in a formal manner. Bradshaw's attorney further holds that the Governor has no authority to oust an appointed official but the final will come when the Supreme Court renders its ruling.

SHIPPING BOARD MARINE STRIKE IS ENDED AT LAST

By International News Service.

Washington, D. C., June 16.—The U. S. Shipping Board will sign an agreement tonight which will end all marine strikes exclusive of private ship owners. This, of course, is just as far as the Government is concerned. Under this agreement the wages of employees will be reduced fifteen percent during the remainder of the year.

CALIFORNIA HAS 13,578 BRIDES UNDER TWENTY

By International News Service.

Sacramento, Calif., June 16.—There is ten California brides married in 1920 under the age of fifteen years, according to the annual report of the State Board of Health dealing with marital relationships.

The tendency of women to marry much earlier than men is commented upon, it being shown that there were 13,578 brides in 1920 between the ages of fifteen and twenty years, while only 1,199 men in the same period of life journeyed to the marriage altar.

The greater number of women, however, marry between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-five years, 14,257 of that class having married in 1920. Men also favor the five-year period immediately after they have reached their majority for selecting their life partner. A total of 16,254 men married last year between these ages.

The State report declares that nearly twice as many men marry after they are past forty-five years of age as women. Only 2,130 women embarked on the matrimonial craft after reaching forty-five years of age, while 4,155 men found mates after that age.

BIG UNITED LABOR UNION IS PROPOSED

By International News Service.

Denver, Colo., June 16.—At a meeting of delegates and representatives here today a proposal was presented for one big union in the American Federation of Labor, which has dawned in history without a precedent. Two resolutions introduced at the convention today provided for united action by all crafts affiliated with the Federation which would enable the entire body to operate as one big union. It is hoped by this action that the contrasted feelings between the government and the marine employees will be terminated.

J. Falkoff of Parma was here Tuesday and Wednesday of this week visiting at the I. Kohn home.

A REOL PITCHERS BATTLE

The Caruthersville baseball club gave a good account of themselves Sunday afternoon, when they defeated the strong team of Hayti with Big Jesse Gwin doing the twirling for the visitors, the score being one to nothing.

Hinchey, the young slab artist of the home team showed rare form and the result was that Hayti only got three hits off his delivery, only three would-be base runners getting on base, one via the four-ball route, and none to reach the payoff station.

Gwin, the visiting pitcher did almost as well but was not afforded as good support, and therefore lost the game when the second baseman threw the ball wide to the catcher. If this wide heave had not been made there might have been a different story to tell, but such breaks happen in baseball, and there went the old ball game with the home team coming out on the long end of the score.

The fielding of the two teams was good, the home team committing only one error, while the visitors committed two.

As from the standpoint of the fans we think all were more than satisfied with the game, as they were given a run for their money. Well, who wouldn't be, as they got $1 baseball for the small sum of 40 cents.—Caruthersville Democrat.

HARD SURFACED ROADS AMENDMENTS DISCUSSED

By International News Service.

The Cement Trust boys are bragging about putting one over on the state by defining hard surfaced roads in the constitutional amendment so that only cement foundations can be built.

I. R. Kelso declared at a Good Roads Convention today that if that is true we want the constitution changed. There were two hundred delegates present and Kelso denied before the entire delegation that they are mud road boosters.

L. H. Gale and family of Concord neighborhood were here Monday doing some shopping and attending the sales being offered by our merchants.

"WE SPOIL 'EM."

The slogan of the Republican party during the campaign and their present motto is quite striking contrasts.

When they decided the Democratic administration was a detriment to the nation and stumped the country telling people of the things which were alleged to have been committed they expounded a theora to voters that all would be changed; that the distressing era would fade away like the morning mist before an August sun. The Democratic regime was ruining the country! Yes, it was affecting the Republican part of it. But even the unappreciated Wilson era did not near measure up to the already hard feelings that the present administration is causing. 'Tis true that some Democratic voters cast their ballots for Republican candidates, but 'tis more expressly true that no one hears those voters boasting of their wisdom.

They now see the error they made and in two years the country will see the Republican Spoil System weaken under the flow of opposing votes.

Governor Hyde seeks to "prefer charges against all Democratic office holders of appointment and replace them with men of his own party. You tell 'em, and we'll spoil 'em! Had the four-flushing game of Hyde been in his campaign platform he would have met a real Napoleonic Waterloo but he was wiser than he is now. The State's chief executive would be in a sea of questions if Hiram Lloyd should not direct his steps.

The removal of Dr. W. S. Dearmont who for twenty-two years was president of the Southeast Missouri State Teachers College, was done because of political bias. Had Serena took the same part in politics that Dearmont took, and at the same time been in Dearmont's position, he would be a greater Republican pet than he is now. Dearmont was a teacher and, therefore, a servant who should be denied the rights of an American citizen!

He just happened to be on the wrong political side this time, that is all.

Hyde was a progressive in 1912 and in 1920 he progressed to a Republican governor. His great conceived idea of complete executive control prompts his craving for the removal of the State Warehouse Commissioner, Bradshaw. In an interview the Governor said to the Commissioner, "Bradshaw, I must have these jobs, they are bounding me to death for them." "They" who? Why the Republican parasite office seekers, of course.

The entire Republican administration is endeavoring to get the "We Spoil 'Em" system in full control and the sooner they do it the worse it will be for them in the next general election which will terminate their unprecedented method of managing a nation.

C. OF C. ELECT OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held Monday night the semi-annual election of officers was had, with the following:

J. T. Buckley, President.
H. J. Reinhard, 1st. Vice-President.
Joe Kohn, 2nd. Vice-President.
O. E. Hooker, Secretary.
I. Kohn, Treasurer.

It was also voted that Monday night, June 20th, be the night for all property owners on Third Street be present to discuss the paving of said street.

DURR—FOWLER

William Durr and Miss Melvina Fowler were united in holy matrimony Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the home of the former's employer, Chas. Morgan, Judge J. M. Argo performing the ceremony.

The couple are Hayti people. Their many friends were somewhat surprised but tender their congratulations and wish them a happy travel thru this life of vicissitudes and pleasures, the Herald joining in the good wishes and congratulations.

John Dorris, Jr., and wife were shopping in Memphis a few days the first of the week. Mrs. Dorris is now spending a few days at her home at Oran.
